Town, Lake & Battlefield

Saratoga as a word covers all three and all three are visited on this tour. The City of Saratoga Springs is noted for hot springs, the Saratoga Performing Arts Center, the historic Gideon Putnam Hotel and horse racing. Starting near the center of town the route leads through some of the many stable areas before passing Yaddo Gardens, an art colony that is open to the public. After a short excursion around part of Saratoga Lake and a climb away from the lake the route traverses farmland until arriving at the entrance to the Saratoga National Historical Park.

The significance of the Battle of Saratoga cannot be appreciated without a tour of the battlefield itself. The National Park Service has an excellent map, available at the park office, which guides one on a 10 mile loop of well interpreted sites in the battlefield itself. That is why those directions are not included here. Another tour in this series goes around the park, past several historic sites in Schuylerville and makes a short loop into the countryside before returning to Schuylerville along the Hudson River and then the park. Combining the two tours will provide even the most enthusiastic bicyclist with a full day of riding enjoyment.

The return to Saratoga Springs continues around the southern part of Saratoga Lake before re-entering the city. The race track complex is approached with the entrance to the casino on the left and many stables and race tracks within view. Bicyclists should be very cautious when horses are crossing nearby and careful not to alarm the horses or their handlers. Saratoga Springs other attractions can easily be visited by bicycle but the town is an active community and motor vehicle traffic can be heavy.
